Practical Adaptations that Really Work in Any Classroom,
Bev Johns, M.S.

Want to learn some fun and engaging activities that can be used in any classroom? This session will provide an array of practical adaptations for students that can be used in a variety of educational environments. With the diverse needs of learners within today's classrooms, it is critical that educators have a whole bag of tricks of the trade. This session includes an array of accommodations that are low-cost and can make a big difference in learning. These accommodations can also reduce behavioral problems.
Bev Johns, Adjunct Instructor, MacMurray College, Jacksonville, IL, and author or co-author of 16 books.
